My name is Eric Charest, owner and operator of The Charest Co. Inc. We primarily install windows and custom vinyl siding. Our main objective is to withhold the upmost quality when working with customers. I met Michael Palson, CEO of Glidelock, at a tradeshow a few months back. I spoke with Michael about an ongoing issue regarding some buckling and warping of vinyl siding panels at a customer's house. Michael was willing to come out and not only explain his product but actually helped me re-install the vinyl siding with the Glidelock system. Prior to installing Glidelock, I have replaced the bad areas of this house 6 times and also replaced the entire house with a different color thinking that would solve the problem. It seemed nothing would work but his Glidelock system. Thanks again for helping solve an extremely difficult situation. I would highly recommend the Glidelock System to anybody who wants a PERFECT siding job.
